Increasing demand on transnational canals

In the 100 years since the Panama Canal was built, globalisation of trade has seen international shipping volumes soar. Today, new canals are planned and existing ones are enlarging to accommodate higher demand planned and existing ones are enlarging to accommodate higher demand GROWTH OF GLOBAL MERCHANT FLEET (capacity in millions of tonnes) 2009 1.192 Up 74.5% 1980 683 Bigger vessels require bigger canals Colon Gatun New Panamax Locks Panamax (1980) COSTA RICA PANAMA CANAL PANAMA NICARAGUA CANAL 2015: 150km Jan 2014: China-backed New locks $40bn proposal approved 93 miles and channels to open 10km 6 miles Atlantic Pacific Mira-Ocean Pacific Ocean flores Ocean Locks Indian MAJOR Ocean SHIPPING Panama City ROUTES Mediterranean Sea THAI SUEZ Port CANAL CANAL THAILAND Said Fl Ballah Aug 2014: Andaman bvpass Egypt announces Sea plans for new Lake Kuala Canal _ Suez Canal to run Timsah options Lumpur parallel with Great current waterway Mar 2014: Bitter Chinese MALAYSIA Lake Suez engineering Cairo 50km 500km Gulf of firms looking at EGYPT Suez building $25bn canal

Sources: World Ocean Review, International Maritime Organisation, wire agencies © GRAPHIC NEWS