

A photograph showing U.S. President Bill Clinton, wearing a dark suit and a patterned tie, signing a document. He is flanked by two men: on the left, an older man with glasses in a grey suit, and on the right, a man with a white beard in a dark suit. They are standing on a red carpet. A small table with a patterned cloth holds a blue folder and a gift box.

Today in History

October 26, 1994

▲ Jordan and Israel signed a historic peace treaty, witnessed by U.S. President Bill Clinton, ending the 46-year state of war between their two nations

1990: The Soviet republic of Kirghizia was officially renamed the Socialist Republic of Kyrgyzstan

1994: An oil leak in Siberia spread across a large area of fragile tundra

2002: Many died when Russian forces stormed a Moscow theatre where 50 Chechen rebels had held 700 hostages

2006: The citizens of Kiribati and Tuvalu were warned that they would have to relocate in the next 10 years because of rising sea levels