

Champions League 2014-15

MATCHDAY 1: SEP 17

Head-to-head W D L

GROUP E

AS Roma ITA	1	0	1
CSKA Moscow RUS
FC Bayern GER	2	0	2
Man City ENG

Form 2013-14

Bayern	SF
CSKA	Group
Man City	Last 16
Roma	—

GROUP F

Barcelona ESP	First meeting
APOEL CYP
Ajax NED	First meeting
PSG FRA

APOEL	—
Ajax	Group
Barcelona	QF
PSG	QF

GROUP G

Chelsea ENG	3	1	0
Schalke 04 GER
Maribor SVN	First meeting
Sporting POR

Chelsea	SF
Maribor	—
Schalke	Last 16
Sporting	—

GROUP H

Porto POR	First meeting
BATE Borisov BLR
Athletic ESP	First meeting
Shakhtar UKR

Athletic	—
BATE	—
Porto	Group
Shakhtar	Group

RIVAL NATIONS

Chelsea looking to break Spanish dominance with major new signings Diego Costa and Cesc Fabregas from La Liga

Wins in Champions League

Spain	Win ratio: 49.7%	334
England	48.5%	309
Italy	44.2%	251
Germany	43.8%	218

Champions League titles (since 1992/93)

Spain 7	England 4	Other 3
Italy 5	Germany 3	(FRA, NED, POR)

HOME FORM: Solid record at Stamford Bridge helped Chelsea to reach semi-finals last season

Home record in Champions League

Diego Costa

Chelsea's dynamic striker, €44m buy from Atletico Madrid