

Scotland's outsized banking system

As a proportion of GDP the assets of Scottish banks are much larger than Iceland's before its banking crash. Scotland's five* largest banks say they will relocate to England if voters back independence

