

Global coalition to fight Islamic State threat

More than 30 countries, including 10 Arab nations, are pledging to participate in a coherent global strategy to combat extremists from the Islamic State group before they gain more territory in Iraq and Syria

