

Turkey moves to use force in Syria and Iraq

Turkey is moving to reverse its non-intervention stance and approve the use of force in Syria and Iraq to fight radical Islamic State (IS) militants who have advanced against cities along the Syrian-Turkish border

