

Today in History

January 13, 2012

▲ The Italian cruise ship Costa Concordia, with 4,252 people on board, partially sank when it ran aground off the coast of Tuscany, with the loss of 32 lives

1910: The first live radio broadcast of opera was transmitted from New York's Metropolitan Opera House

1938: Walt Disney released his first full length animated feature, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs

2003: Astronomers reported the discovery of three new moons orbiting Neptune, bringing the total to 11

2010: Venezuela imposed rolling four-hour blackouts every alternate day to combat a major energy crisis