

Hebdo suspects die as police end twin sieges

Two brothers suspected of attacking the Charlie Hebdo magazine were killed when police stormed their hideout in the north of Paris. Meanwhile, a hostage-taker with possible links to the Hebdo suspects was also killed in a separate siege at a kosher supermarket in eastern Paris

Cherif (left) and Said Kouachi

Terrorists on run since Jan 7 take refuge at print shop in industrial zone north of Paris

CTD printing warehouse

Jan 7, Paris: Attack on Charlie Hebdo office leaves 12 dead

Jan 9, Dammartin-en-Goële: Charlie Hebdo attackers killed as warehouse stormed. Policeman wounded, female hostage freed

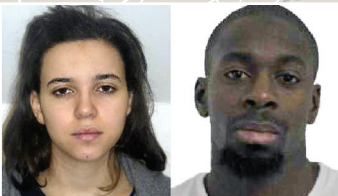

PARIS

Charles de Gaulle airport

Jan 9, Porte de Vincennes: Gunman and four hostages killed as police force entry to supermarket – two police wounded

Jan 8, Montrouge: Policewoman killed. Chief suspects Ahmed Coulibaly (right) and Hayat Boumeddiene

Hypercacher supermarket: Police force entrance through main door

