

Today in History

March 20, 2005

▲ Ethiopian Kenenisa Bekele won the world cross-country title in France, becoming the first athlete to win both long and short course championships four years in a row

1815: Napoleon arrived back in Paris from exile in Elba to reclaim power

1965: Stevie Wonder, The Supremes, The Temptations and Martha Reeves & the Vandellas arrived in Britain for the first Motown tour

1990: Imelda Marcos went on trial in New York on charges of fraud and racketeering. She was later acquitted

1995: Tokyo's underground was paralysed when terrorists released deadly nerve gas, killing 12 people