

Today in History

March 25, 1975

▲ King Faisal of Saudi Arabia was assassinated by his nephew, Prince Faisal bin Musaid. He was succeeded by his brother, Khaled bin Abdul-aziz

1655: Dutch astronomer and mathematician Christiaan Huygens discovered Saturn's largest moon, Titan

1995: Former heavyweight boxing champion Mike Tyson was released from jail after serving three years of a 10-year sentence for rape

1995: The Schengen Treaty abolished border checks between France, Germany and the Low Countries

1995: WikiWikiWeb, the world's first user-editable website, was created