

Today in History

March 26, 2010

▲ A South Korean warship sank after an explosion, believed caused by a torpedo fired by a North Korean submarine, tore through its hull, killing 46 sailors

1945: The World War II Battle of Iwo Jima officially ended

1980: A former airman claimed about 100 servicemen were contaminated during Britain's atomic tests in Australia in 1953-54

2005: Half a million people marched through Taipei, Taiwan, to express anger over China's anti-secession law

2010: U.S. President Obama and Russia's President Medvedev finalised the New START treaty