

Co-pilot “deliberately crashed” Flight 9525

The cockpit voice recorder recovered from the Germanwings flight that crashed in the French Alps indicates that the co-pilot intentionally started a descent while the pilot was locked out of the cockpit

Airbus
A320

A320 cockpit

Door lock switch

Captain (pilot)
seat

First officer (co-pilot)
seat

Control stick

Cockpit door (pilot's side)

Electric locks

Spy
hole

Toilet

Galley

Escape panel

Door: Reinforced doors introduced after 9/11 attacks. Cockpit can be accessed via key pad code on cabin side, but only if pilot permits door to be opened

