

U.S. avian flu outbreak claims 45 million birds

Health officials are scrambling to contain the worst-ever outbreak of bird flu in the United States, which has left 45 million chickens and turkeys dead in 16 states, mostly in Iowa and Minnesota

LABORATORY-CONFIRMED AVIAN INFLUENZA FINDINGS

In poultry and captive wild birds since December 2014 (data as of Jun 4)

■ H5N2 virus ■ H5N8 virus 🐔 Commercial flocks affected

$5.7 billion export market in poultry and poultry products hit hard as top consumers impose trade restrictions