

Roland Garros 2015: Men's preview

1 Rank

1 Novak Djokovic (SRB) Age: 27

In superb form, undefeated in 22 matches, securing four Masters titles. Will be looking to end Nadal's reign at Roland Garros, which remains only major World No.1 has yet to win

3 Andy Murray (GBR) 28

Claimed first ever clay court titles after impressive performances in Munich and Madrid – hoping to make first final in Paris and continue unbeaten streak following marriage to Kim Sears

2 Roger Federer (SUI) 33

Champion in 2009. Sole win in last 20 Grand Slams indicates five-set endurance may be barrier to further major success. Played well in Rome, making final, where he lost to Djokovic

7 Rafael Nadal (ESP) 28

King of Clay faces tough challenge to win tenth title – five defeats on clay in 2015 and an overall win ratio of just 74% means Spaniard is likely to face pressure from quarter-finals onwards
