

U.S. Open at Chambers Bay

The Pacific Northwest welcomes the world's best golfers as the U.S. Open makes its debut at Chambers Bay – a links-style course with vast, treeless fairways built on a former sand quarry outside Tacoma, Washington

Holes 1 and 18
Two holes will play to collective par of nine, but par of each hole could change on round-by-round basis

Hole 9
Two different sets of tees, one playing downhill, the other uphill

Hole	Par	Yards	Hole	Par	Yards
1	5 / 4	598 / 496	10	4	436
2	4	399	11	4	537
3	3	198	12	4	311
4	4	495	13	4	534
5	4	488	14	4	546
6	4	495	15	3	246 / 167
7	4	508	16	4	423
8	5	614	17	3	218
9	3	224 / 217	18	5 / 4	604 / 525
			Total	70	7,874 / 7,607

Hole 15: Can be set up to play as longest or shortest par 3 on course

