

Japan demands China halt oil exploration

Japan has released aerial photos of Chinese oil and gas exploration platforms said to be close to disputed waters, indicating that Beijing is planning to tap into an oil field that straddles the territory of both countries

