

Indian train stations to go online

Search giant Google is collaborating with Indian Railways and RailTel to bring high-speed Wi-Fi to 100 of the country's busiest stations – serving over 10 million commuters a day – by the end of 2016

