

Today in History

November 14, 2010

▲ Germany's Sebastian Vettel, 23, racing for Red Bull, won the final Grand Prix of the season in Abu Dhabi to become the youngest ever F1 World Champion

1770: Scottish explorer James Bruce claimed to have discovered the source of the Blue Nile in Lake Tana in Ethiopia

1900: A scientific institute in Vienna announced the existence of three different blood groups

1925: The first exhibition of Surrealist paintings opened in Paris, France

1965: The Battle of Ia Drang Valley marked the first major battle between U.S. troops and North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam