

Russian S-400 air defence missiles in Syria

Russia is deploying advanced, long-range S-400 air defence missiles at its airbase in Syria after Turkey shot down one of its fighter jets

Ankara

S-400 missiles at Khmeimim airbase

Incirlik

TURKEY

Raqqa

CYPRUS

400km

SYRIA

Damascus

IRAQ

ISRAEL

EGYPT

JORDAN

SAUDI ARABIA

Mediterranean Sea

RAF Akrotiri

LEBANON

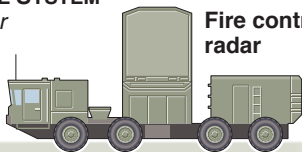

Al Azraq

S-400 SURFACE-TO-AIR-MISSILE SYSTEM

NATO codename SA-21 Growler

Mobile command post

Fire control radar

Launcher: Equipped with four missile canisters. Up to eight launchers in S-400 battery

Each canister holds four short-range missiles or one longer range missile

S-400 MISSILES

Can target aircraft, cruise missiles and ballistic missiles

40N6: Maximum range 400km

48N6: 250km

9M96E2
120km

Maximum intercept altitude 56km

Maximum target speed 4.8km/sec (Mach 14)

