

Today in History

June 7, 2015

▲ Christopher Lee, veteran British star best known for playing Count Dracula and latterly the evil wizard Saruman in The Lord of the Rings films, died aged 93

1937: Movie star Jean Harlow, the blonde bombshell of the 1930s, died from a cerebral oedema aged only 26

1973: Willy Brandt became the first West German leader to visit Israel

2006: Iraq's most wanted terrorist, Abu Musab al-Zarqawi, died in an airstrike

2008: Hillary Clinton pulled out of the race for the White House and endorsed her rival Barack Obama as the Democratic candidate for the presidency of the United States