

Today in History

August 4, 1944

▲ Anne Frank and her family were discovered by the Nazis after two years hiding in an attic room in Amsterdam. Anne's famous diary was published after the war

1870: The Red Cross Society was founded in Britain

1958: The Billboard Hot 100, the United States' weekly singles record chart, was first published

2006: The Domesday Book, the then 920-year-old census record of England, went online

2010: Up to 12 million people were affected by the most severe flooding in Pakistan's history, while the death toll rose to at least 1,600