

Priest killed in French church attack

A priest was killed and another person critically wounded after two men armed with knives attacked a church near Rouen in northern France. Both assailants were killed when police stormed the building

Saint-Etienne-du-Rouvray: Armed men enter church during Mass, taking priest and four other people hostage