

Syrian troops tighten Aleppo siege

Syrian government forces, backed by Russian air support, have encircled Aleppo, setting the stage for a prolonged siege aimed at eventually forcing the surrender of rebels holed up in the eastern parts of the city

