

Taliban advance in Afghanistan

The Afghan Taliban is now operating in more locations than it has since the U.S.-led invasion in 2001, according to a report by intelligence agency Stratfor

Districts with significant activity by:

-  Afghan Taliban
-  So-called Islamic State (Daesh)
-  Both groups
-  Major roads

200km
125 miles

Baghlan province

Taliban threat to country's crucial ring road

Kunduz

Kabul

Herat

AFGHANISTAN

Nangarhar and Kunar provinces

Taliban and Islamic State militants have reached temporary ceasefire to better focus their efforts on attacking government forces

Lashkar Gah

Helmand province

Taliban control 80 percent of region