

Today in History

November 8, 2015

▲ Aung San Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy won a landslide election victory in Myanmar to end decades of military-backed rule

1793: The revolutionary government in France opened the royal art collection in the Louvre to the public

2011: The death toll in Syria's eight-month uprising reached 3,500 as a crackdown on protesters continued

2011: Indian batsman Sachin Tendulkar became the first cricketer in history to score 15,000 Test runs

2013: Italy's former Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi was expelled from parliament over tax fraud