

Mounting death toll in Philippines drug war

Philippine President Rodrigo Duterte's war on drugs shows no signs of stopping, with hundreds of people killed as a result of police operations and other drug-related incidents since he took office on June 30

