

New Zealand earthquakes

A second earthquake has hit New Zealand's South Island, hours after a quake killed at least two people and caused devastation in the upper South Island

Sunday, 11.02GMT:
7.8 magnitude quake strikes some 91km northeast of Christchurch

Monday, 00.45GMT:
6.2 magnitude earthquake. State of emergency declared in Kaikoura region

