

Berlin Christmas market attack

German police are investigating a “suspected terrorist attack” after a truck ploughed into a crowd at a Christmas market in Berlin’s Breitscheidplatz square near the fashionable Kurfuerstendamm Avenue

Monday, 20:00CET: Twelve people killed and 48 others injured when truck crashes into crowd gathered around market stalls, serving mulled wine and sausages, at foot of Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church

