

Islamic State loses almost quarter of territory

The so-called Islamic State (IS) lost almost 18,000 square km of its territory in 2016, according to defence analysts IHS Conflict Monitor. The 23% reduction compares to a loss of 14 percent the year before

