

Today in History

March 14, 2007

▲ The Sunda clouded leopard, found on the islands of Borneo and Sumatra, was classified as a species separate from its relative on mainland Southeast Asia

1932: George Eastman, founder of Kodak, committed suicide, leaving a note “..my work is done. Why wait?”

1985: Singapore Zoo put five lionesses on the contraceptive pill after a swift rise in the population

1998: Sonia Gandhi, widow of the late premier Rajiv Gandhi, was elected leader of India's Congress I Party

2001: NASA's Chandra X-ray telescope reported X-rays from black holes over 12 billion light years away