

Today in History

April 6, 1992

▲ War broke out in Bosnia-Herzegovina after the European Community recognised it as an independent state. The three-year conflict claimed over 100,000 lives

1939: The “non-stick” polymer Teflon was accidentally discovered by researchers at Du Pont

2007: A UN report predicted the extinction of 30 percent of the world’s species if emissions of greenhouse gases continued

2011: China detained internationally renowned artist Ai Weiwei

2014: Pro-Russian militants seized government buildings in Donetsk and Luhansk in eastern Ukraine