

Today in History

July 29, 1588

▲ The Spanish Armada sent by Philip II to invade England was defeated at Gravelines by an English fleet led by Lord Howard and Sir Francis Drake

1992: Former East German leader Erich Honecker arrived in Berlin to face charges for deaths at the Berlin Wall

1994: Former Italian prime minister Bettino Craxi was found guilty of fraud and jailed for eight years

2008: Two Russian manned mini submarines descended to the bottom of Lake Baikal, the world's deepest lake

2015: Debris from Malaysian Airlines flight MH370, missing since March 2014, washed up on Reunion