

Canada most positive global influence

A new global Ipsos MORI survey finds the public sees Canada as the country with the most positive influence on world affairs – only four in ten people think the influence of the U.S. is positive

Negative influence on world affairs   Positive influence on world affairs

Survey of 18,055 adults aged 16-64 in 25 countries between April 21 and May 5, 2017. Data weighted to match profile of each population