

Canada wildfires force mass evacuation

British Columbia is under a state of emergency with wildfires forcing the evacuation of nearly 40,000 people. In 2016 fires drove over 80,000 people from their homes in Fort McMurray, in neighbouring Alberta

