

Deadliest U.S. hurricanes and storms

The worst hurricanes and tropical storms to hit the U.S. have claimed more than 2,600 lives and cost at least $500 billion in damage over the past 25 years, according to NOAA

Fatalities and damage estimates (CPI-adjusted* to 2017 dollars)

1	2005	Katrina	1,833	$160.0bn	8	2004	Charley	35	$21.1bn
2	2012	Sandy	159	$70.2bn	9	2011	Irene	45	$15.0bn
3	1992	Andrew	61	$47.8bn	10	2004	Frances	48	$12.9bn
4	2008	Ike	112	$34.8bn	11	2001	Allison	43	$11.9bn
5	2004	Ivan	57	$27.1bn	12	2016	Matthew	49	$10.3bn
6	2005	Wilma	35	$24.3bn	13	1999	Floyd	77	$9.7bn
7	2005	Rita	119	$23.7bn	14	2017	Harvey	20+	$42-100bn†

Picture: Associated Press *Consumer Price Index. †Estimates by Enki Research and Imperial Capital
Sources: NOAA National Centers for Environmental Information, Bloomberg © GRAPHIC NEWS