

Austria heading for election shake-up

Austrian voters are on course to overturn their current political order, with polls indicating 31-year-old Foreign Minister Sebastian Kurz from the conservative People's Party is likely to form a new government

ÖVP

POLL OF POLLS
(October 10)

ÖVP
Austrian People's Party

33%

FPÖ

FPÖ
Freedom
Party of Austria

26%

SPÖ

SPÖ
Social Democratic Party of Austria

24%

Sebastian Kurz

Predicted to become next chancellor. Has focused on immigration and integration since taking over as ÖVP leader in May 2017

Coalition: Partnership between ÖVP and far-right Freedom Party would force centre-left SPÖ of Chancellor Christian Kern into opposition

neos

NEOS
The New Austria
and Liberal
Forum

5%

Greens

5%

LISTE PILZ JA ES GEHT!

Peter Pilz's List

5%