

Japan's Abe secures large election majority

Prime Minister Shinzo Abe has secured a landslide win in Japan's snap general election, with his ruling coalition keeping a two-thirds "super majority" in the lower house of parliament

Abe's Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) and its partner, Komeito, together secured 313 seats in lower house, passing 310 figure required for two-thirds majority. Victory paves way for Abe to amend Japan's post-war pacifist constitution

PROJECTED SEATS IN LOWER HOUSE OF PARLIAMENT

Turnout: 53.68%
