

CEOs earn average wage in three days

The average chief executive of Britain's FTSE 100 top companies has earned the same in the first three days of 2018 as the typical worker will make in the entire year, according to the High Pay Centre and CIPD*

Britain's top-paid CEOs

Company

Annual salary

1.	Sir Martin Sorrell	WPP	£48.1m (€54.1m)
2.	Arnold Donald	Carnival	£22.4m (€25.2m)
3.	Rakesh Kapoor	Reckitt Benckiser	£14.6m (€16.4m)
4.	Pascal Soriot	AstraZeneca	£13.3m (€15.0m)
5.	Erik Engstrom	Relx	£10.5m (€11.8m)
6.	Bob Dudley	BP	£8.4m (€9.5m)
7.	Albert Manifold	CRH	£8.0m (€9.0m)
8.	Nicandro Durante	British American Tobacco	£7.6m (€8.5m)
9.	Flemming Ornskov	Shire	£7.5m (€8.4m)
10.	Ben Van Beurden	Royal Dutch Shell	£6.9m (€7.6m)
Median British workers' salary			£28,758 (€32,339)

*Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development – association for human resource management

Source: High Pay Centre Pictures: Associated Press, Getty Images, Twitter

© GRAPHIC NEWS