

Today in History

January 29, 2015

▲ All 239 passengers and crew of Malaysia Airlines flight MH370 were officially declared dead. The plane, which disappeared on March 8, 2014, remains missing

1891: Liliuokalani, renowned for her song Aloha Oe, was proclaimed Queen of Hawaii. She was overthrown in 1893

1958: American film stars Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward were married

1996: Venice's 204-year-old opera house, La Fenice, said to be the most beautiful in the world, was gutted by fire

1998: For the first time a top tobacco company executive acknowledged the health risk of tobacco products