

Putin set to be in power as long as Stalin

If Vladimir Putin, Russia's longest serving leader since Joseph Stalin, wins a fourth term as president and serves until its end, he will near 25 years in power – almost as long as the dictator's 29-year rule

So far, four U.S. presidents, four British prime ministers and two German chancellors have been elected since Putin came to power