

Doomsday vault marks decade of protection

Norway is celebrating the tenth anniversary of The Svalbard Global Seed Vault, but scientists are keeping a close eye on the facility after a recent thaw threatened 5,000 crop species stored inside

Svalbard Global Seed Vault

Holds duplicate backup seed samples from 1,700 other genebanks around world, some of which are vulnerable to natural disasters, conflict, lack of funding or poor management

