

Britain's Brexit War Cabinet

Prime Minister Theresa May's Strategy and Negotiations committee – referred to as “The SN” – is an 11-member Cabinet sub-committee tasked with the UK's withdrawal and future relationship with the EU

PRO-REMAIN

PRO-LEAVE

Philip Hammond
Chancellor

David Lidington
Minister for the Cabinet Office

Sajid Javid
Home Secretary was outspoken Eurosceptic, now backs Remain

David Davis
Brexit Secretary, principal negotiator

Boris Johnson
Foreign Secretary

Theresa May
Prime Minister has casting vote

Greg Clark
Business and Energy Secretary

Karen Bradley
Northern Ireland Secretary

Gavin Williamson
Defence Secretary backed Remain in referendum, now a Brexiteer

Sir Jeremy Heywood
Cabinet secretary – and head of 427,000 strong Civil Service – is tasked with overseeing Brexit.

Army of 8,000 civil servants will work on more than 300 programmes during phase-two negotiations on post-Brexit trade deal

Olly Robbins
Prime minister's lead adviser on Europe. Secretive civil servant leads British delegation in Brussels, often without Brexit Secretary present. Robbins has gained trust of European Commission negotiators and is behind-the-scenes fixer when talks stall