

EU's bilateral trade with Iran

Europe moved swiftly to revive economic relations with Iran after a deal to dismantle the country's nuclear weapons programme was verified in January 2016, ending years of crippling international sanctions

