

Diamonds are for everyone

Man-made diamonds – manufactured by chemical vapour deposition (CVD) – are grown in carbon-containing gas in a plasma state. Layers of carbon atoms create stones chemically identical to mined diamonds

