

Missing Thai soccer team found alive in cave

All 12 boys and their soccer coach have been found alive after nine days missing in the flooded Tham Luang Nang Non cave system in Thailand, according to the Chiang Rai governor

Tham Luang Nang Non cave

Network stretches 10km into mountain. Heavy rains that flooded key passages are believed to have trapped soccer team and hampered search efforts

Chiang Rai
Cave location

Drilling through rock to drain water

Pattaya Beach
Soccer team
reportedly found about 400m from chamber which was key target of rescue effort

Entrance: Soccer team vanished after entering cave on June 23

Search efforts
outside of cave

Latest search efforts in third chamber

1km
0.6 miles