

Thai cave rescuers face race against time

Dwindling oxygen levels and forecasts of heavy rain are adding to pressure on authorities trying to work out a rescue plan for 12 boys and their football coach trapped in a flooded cave in Thailand

Teaching boys how to swim and use breathing apparatus so they can be escorted out of cave by rescue divers, is thought to be most realistic option