

Today in History

August 7, 2015

▲ Uggie, the terrier famous for his role in the Oscar-winning film The Artist, and the first dog to have his paw prints immortalised in cement in Hollywood, died at age 13

1944: IBM dedicated the first program-controlled calculator. It could do three additions per second

1955: Tokyo Telecommunications Engineering, later renamed Sony, sold its first transistor radios

2007: Astronomers announced the discovery of the largest known planet in the universe, 20 times larger than Earth

2010: Fidel Castro warned Cubans of the risk of a nuclear war between the United States and Iran