

World's largest amphibious aircraft

China's new AG600 can make round trips without refuelling from the island province of Hainan to James Shoal (Zengmu Ansha), claimed by Beijing as the southernmost point of its territory

AVIC AG600: Search and rescue, transport, anti-submarine missions

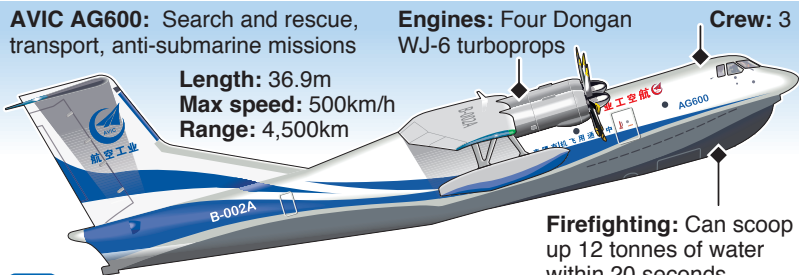

Engines: Four Dongan WJ-6 turboprops

Crew: 3

Length: 36.9m

Max speed: 500km/h

Range: 4,500km

Firefighting: Can scoop up 12 tonnes of water within 20 seconds

 Nine-Dash Line: Territory claimed by China

