

Today in History

November 24, 1963

▲ Nightclub owner Jack Ruby shot dead President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, in the underground garage of Dallas Police headquarters

2010: Aung San Suu Kyi, newly freed Burmese pro-democracy leader, was reunited with her son after 10 years

2014: Lionel Messi's 252nd goal for Barcelona broke the 50-year-old La Liga scoring record

2015: Turkey shot down a Russian warplane near the border with Syria, sparking a major diplomatic row

2017: Paralympian Oscar Pistorius's jail sentence for the murder of his girlfriend was increased to 15 years