

Mexico begins vast Yucatan train project

Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador has launched the Mayan Train – a $7.4 billion project to build a 1,525km railway across five states to connect the main tourist attractions in the Yucatán peninsula

Trains: Operated by “hybrid biodiesel locomotives” with top speed of 160km/h. Non-polluting hydrogen fuel proposed for Calakmul Biosphere Reserve